INTRODUCTION

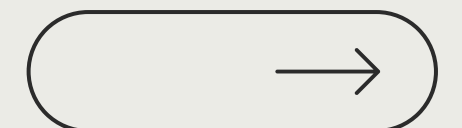

We are four international female artists, friends, mothers, and passionate creators, bound by a shared commitment to conscious living and artistic expression. Though our individual paths, unique styles, and diverse techniques emerged from different corners of the world and distinct life stages, fate brought our creative journeys together.

Cadence Collective is more than an art group; it is a convergence of unique stories and global perspectives woven into the fabric of daily life. We seamlessly blend our artistic practice with the routine of motherhood, proving that art and life are not separate entities but harmonious partners that follow a powerful, internal rhythm.

FROM PARIS TO THE WORLD

Our debut at the Carrousel du Louvre in April 2026 marked a definitive milestone for Cadence Collective, solidifying our presence on the international stage. Following this successful European premiere, we are now channeling that momentum into exclusive global partnerships. We are ready to bring our curated aesthetic to the world's most prestigious venues, from luxury international hotels to bespoke private commissions, merging high-end artistry with the sophisticated environments they inhabit.

PALINA P. CHAVEZ

Palina Pantyushina de Chavez is a Russian and Mexican citizen, artist, designer, and consultant based in Naples, Florida, who believes creation is the essential language of her being.

Educated in Moscow and at a prestigious London college, Palina built a celebrated decade-long career as a costume designer across film, theater, and fashion in Russia, the USA, England, and Mexico. Her prestigious design work includes collaborations on major international productions and awards ceremonies.

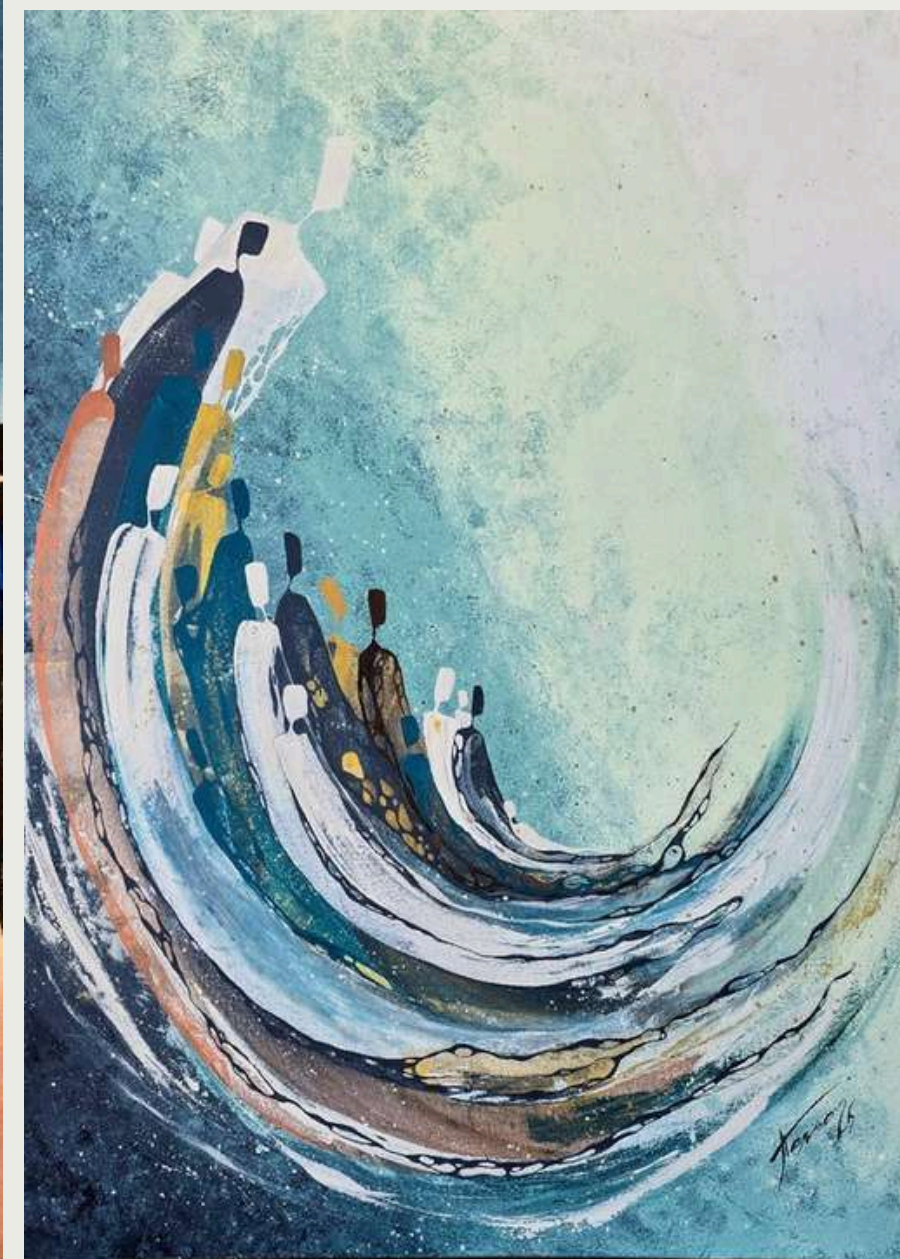

Now focused on fine art (painting, ceramics, and illustration), her work has been exhibited at renowned art fairs across Europe and regularly shown in Florida. After nearly two decades enriching the cultural scene in Mexico, Palina now serves the global art community as a consultant and teacher, continuously expanding the boundaries of her international creative expression.

GABRIELA SICILIA

Gabriela Sicilia is a Mexican visual artist and cultural advocate known for blending expressive color, innovation, and her vibrant heritage.

Her deep creative training includes degrees in Graphic Design from Universidad Intercontinental and Fine Arts from Universidad Anáhuac. This foundation, alongside decades of experience in technology, informs her work rooted in expressionism and free creativity.

Gabriela's influence is international: she developed a contemporary art project in Milan with Dolce & Gabbana and contributed to multidisciplinary events like the FIFA Art Ball Auction. Recognized for actively promoting Mexican contemporary art in museums and public spaces across her country, she is guided by the belief that "Art is the expression of emotion." Gabriela invites viewers to feel the passion and stories woven into her vibrant brushstrokes.

ANNA BLOOM

Anna Zhurba is a 3D floral artist based in Naples, Florida. Originally from Russia, she is the founder of Annasbloomdecor, a studio dedicated to bringing the beauty of nature into contemporary interiors.

Specializing in floral-inspired art lamps, sculptural designs, and wall art, Anna works with diverse materials such as foam, metal, fabric, paper, and paint to explore themes of balance, transformation, and texture.

An active participant in local art shows and festivals, Anna received the Honorary Merit Artist Award (2025) from the Boca Raton Museum of Art for her contribution to the arts. Her creations, collected privately and featured in interior spaces, are recognized for their signature blend of elegance and bold expression.

ARTIST STATEMENT

My art is rooted in the belief that nature offers harmony, balance, and renewal. Flowers, in particular, embody ultimate beauty and perfection—symbols of calm, grace, and the natural rhythm of life.

Experimentation lies at the heart of my creative process. I work with diverse materials—foam wire, paper, fabric, and acrylic—embracing the playfulness of discovery. I'm fascinated by contrasts: the softness and delicacy of petals against rough textures, gentle pastel hues beside deep, intense tones. These opposites, when brought together, reveal a deeper harmony—a reminder that beauty often arises from balance and tension.

Each piece begins as an exploration, and the most fulfilling moment comes when it starts to take on a life of its own, guiding me toward its final shape and spirit. Ultimately, my goal is to create works that go beyond decoration—pieces that bring a sense of peace, balance, and connection to the natural world, inviting viewers to pause, breathe, and feel the quiet harmony that flowers embody.

ZOEY BELTON

"Love is a language that we're all capable of speaking, let's use it to change the world..."

Born and raised in Richmond, Virginia, Zoey Belton is a mixed-media artist whose work is rooted in the pursuit of peace, healing and spiritual restoration. Drawing inspiration from texture and the quiet beauty of simplicity, she creates soothing, layered compositions that invite viewers to pause and breathe.

Zoey Belton is a self-taught artist whose work reflects a journey of healing, faith & purpose. Her pieces have been featured in gallery exhibitions and she's actively participated in local art festivals celebrating her ability to weave warmth & spirituality into every brushstroke, each painting is created as a soulful process, carrying an encouraging message handwritten on the back of every painting to uplift & inspire. A portion of every sale supports domestic violence shelters around the country. Turning art into both beauty & hope.
